

THERON A. READ,

ROOMS 5 AND 6, LOW BUILDING, NORTH ST

WILLIAM M. ABELL, CLERK.

Middletown, N. Y., Feb. 13th. 1889

Dear Sirs:- Will you please inform me, whether or not you have a fund for purchasing old and rare coins; I have for sale a collection of Roman and British coins, some of which must be of considerable value, about 20 of which are certified by the British Museum: also a Copper Coin, struck at Alexandria, time of Alexandria the Great, and a Copper Coin, Ptolemy VIII, B.C. 170 - 117, obverse Cleopatra II, both of which are certified by the British Museum.

If you are purchasing such coins, will send you a catalogue. Will you kindly give me the name and address of a numismatist, who resides in Philadelphia, the author of two or three works on numismatics, one of which I bought at the Mint a few years ago, and greatly oblige,

Yours Respectfully,

To The U. S. Mint,

Philadelphia,

Pa.

Wm. M. Abell

Middletown, N. Y.
Feb. 13. 1889.

Wm. M. Abell.
Wants to sell collection of Roman & British Coins.

Philadelphia,

P.

To the N. Y. Press,

and Weekly Opinions,

Yours Respectfully,

Unhappily, one of which I bought at the Mint a few years ago, the medals in Philadelphia, the edition of two or three more on with you kindly give me the name and address of a manufacturer, if you are displeased with such coins, will send you a catalogue.

The British Museum.

Two - The obverse of the first is a head of which are depicted by of Alexander the Great, and the reverse of the second is a head of British Museum: also a number of coins, struck at Philadelphia, and of considerable value, about 50 of which are depicted by the collection of Roman and British coins, some of which must be have a long for the old and the coins, I have for sale

the first:-

on please inform me, whether or not you

Feb. 13, 1889

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 156

[Abstract:] Wants to sell collection of Roman & British Coins.

Law Office of Theron A. Read
Middletown, N.Y.,
February 13, 1889

Dear Sirs:-

Will you please inform me, whether or not you have a fund for purchasing old and rare coins; I have for sale a collection of Roman and British coins, some of which must be of considerable value, about 20 of which are certified by the British Museum: also a Copper Coin, struck at Alexandria, time of Alexandria the Great, and a Copper Coin, Ptolemy VIII, B.C. 170-117, obverse Cleopatra II, both of which are certified by the British Museum.

If you are purchasing such coins, will send you a catalogue. Will you kindly give me the name and address of a numismatist, who resides in Philadelphia, the author of two or three works on numismatics, one of which I bought at the Mint a few years ago, and greatly oblige,

Yours Respectfully,
Wm. M. Abell

To the U.S. Mint, Philadelphia,
Pa.